

From which country does the person come who wears these shoes?

Having a sense of home under one's soles

Diospi Suyana is an international team: Europeans, US-Americans, Latinos and Australians work peacefully together. But each individual maintains strong links to her/his home country. Some Germans living in Curahuasi actually have a cuckoo-clock in their flats, some Swiss only trust (and eat) their own chocolate, while some Austrians maintain adamantly that Vienna is the beautiful city on earth. The colleague shown in the above photo knows that healthy footwear is absolutely necessary. Do you know from which country he comes?

