

We have been waiting for these two

Frankfurt to Panama City with Lufthansa and then onto Lima flying with Copa. Marion Hofmann, responsible for staff welfare, and general surgeon Dr Olga Koop crossed the threshold of the Diospi-Suyana-Guesthouse shortly after midnight. The two highly-qualified ladies are planning to spend a minimum of three years in Curahuasi.

Before heading off to bed, missionary doctor Klaus John welcomed the two new arrivals most cordially. "I am delighted that you are here!" Marion and Olga's first night in Peru will be fairly short, since, due to jetlag, new arrivals from Europe are usually up by 4a.m. Peru-time. But are not three hours sleep better than two!?
