

Was it our master optician Dorothea Töws' intuition or perfection?

Rainy season. It is around 3a.m. in the middle of the night and a storm is raging above Curahuasi. Dorothea Töws is filming the nightly scene through the window of her flat. At this moment a flash of lightning strikes a sensitive part of the city's electricity system. Click on the above picture to see for yourself what happens next.

Clearly one needs to be have been using one's mobile for years in order to capture such a situation for posterity. Perfectly timed.
