

Improved medical care for Indians and poor agricultural labourers (campesinos) via

- in- and outpatient care
- training of indigenous nurses
- medical trips to outlying villages
- disease prevention and treatment information for patients
- subsidization of treatment financed by donations

Educational support of children in Curahuasi district via

- construction and long-term maintenance of a Christian international school
- teaching of Christian values based on the Bible
- appropriate training to facilitate future professional and social advancement
- grants for poor children through sponsorship
- equal treatment of children regardless of race or social status

Sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ in cooperation with local churches via

- mission hospital counselors
- Christian literature and films
- lifestyle (testimony) of missionaries
- social work
- ministry of missionaries in local churches

Appreciation of the Indian Culture via

- Quechua name of hospital and school
- courses in Quechua at the Diospi Suyana School
- respectful treatment of patients and students by staff
- training of indigenous staff

Cooperative partnership with Christians and churches in Europe and throughout the world and sensitization of First World countries towards concerns of South American Indians via

- regular information (newspaper, letters, films) about the hospital and school in churches, etc.
- visitor groups who serve on a temporary basis at the hospital or school for special projects and attend information events